REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN

Will Open in This City on Thursday, October 5, When Hon. Edwin P. Morrow Will Deliver an Address in the Court House.

Plans have been made for the opening of the Republican campaign in this county on next Thursday night when Hon. Edwin P. Morrow of Somerset will address the Republicans of Mason county in the Court House.

Plans have been in the making for a speaker for the opening in this county for some time and it was but yesterday that County Chairman Matthews, learned of the choice for this city. He at once got busy to advertise the speech of Mr. Morrow and to make ready for the event.

Hon. Edwin P. Morrow is one of the most noted Republican speakers in the state and early after the nomination of Justice Hughes he announced that he would support the Republican nominee for the Presidency. He has been much in demand in this state and elsewhere and the Republicans of this county are indeed fortunate to be able to secure this silver-tongued orator to open the campaign for them. Mr. Morrow was present in this city last fall when running for governor of the state, to which position he was defeated by only a few hundred votes. Those who heard him talk at that time will be more than pleased to hear him again and he will doubtless be greeted by a large audience.

Mason county this fall shows the indication of going Republican from the reports we have received from various parts. While the vote in the primaries was exceedingly light, yet it was enough to make the leaders of the opposition party open their eyes, not only the county, but the entire state may give its vote to Hughes this fall. Certainly, Wilson will have no walk-away in the commonwealth.

All loyal Republicans are urged to come out and hear Morrow on next Thursday night. All are invited—NEXT—DON'T FORGET TO REGISTER ON NEXT TUESDAY.

The time of evening service at the Church of the Nativity has been changed from 7 to 7:30 o'clock.

ENTERTAINS

Miss Irene Glicher entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Summers last evening with a party to a number of her friends. Dancing and cards were the order of the evening.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Held Short, but Interesting Session in the High School Building Last Evening—Night School Proposals Discussed.

The regular monthly session of the Board of Education of the Public Schools was held last evening in the High School building. A rather short but interesting meeting was held. Nine members of the board were present.

The superintendent's report for the first month contained some very interesting figures on the enrollment for the opening month. His report showed 1004 pupils enrolled as compared to 987 in 1915, 933 in 1914 and 970 in 1913. A gain of 18 pupils was made in the grade schools of the city. Two hundred and seventeen have been enrolled in the High School, the average attendance being 214. The Senior Class of the High School this year boasts of 50 members, a dozen more than over before.

Regarding the matter of the High School, the board did not feel that they would be willing to give light and fuel to conduct the school unless a class of twenty could be secured. They would be willing, however, if that number should be obtained to have the class formed and carry on a regular night school. Further announcements of this will be made in Monday's Ledger.

The remainder of the session was spent in discussing the crowded condition of the third and fourth grade rooms in the High School building. Seats are not available for two scholars and there is no place in the room to put additional seats. No definite conclusion was reached for the matter for this term of school and ample provision will be made for it at the beginning of the second semester.

There being no further business the board adjourned.

MANY ATTEND

The Funeral of the Late Dr. Maurice Waller, Who Died at the Home of His Sister in Chicago, Ill., Tuesday—Buried in Maysville Cemetery.

The funeral of Dr. Maurice Waller was held in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon, the body of the beloved minister having arrived at 10 o'clock in the morning. The burial was made in the Maysville cemetery.

A large number of the friends and admirers of Dr. Waller gathered at the church to pay a silent but personal tribute to his life. Hugo banks of flowers told mutely the esteem in which he was held and though the audience was composed almost entirely of the older residents of the city and county it showed that his good was not to be interred with his bones. Dr. John Barbour, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. H. Kerr Taylor of the Central Presbyterian Church and Rev. Emil Bauerman of Flemingsburg, conducted the funeral ceremony. Dr. Barbour paid a splendid tribute to the life of Dr. Waller, his connection with the old First Church and spoke earnestly of his Christian life and his work for his Master.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Paxton Marshall, Ben Marshall, John Chambers, Frank Ellison, J. Foster Barbour and R. A. Cochran. During the removal of the body from the church the bell tolled in respect to the dead. A quartet composed of Miss Mary Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster Barbour and Mr. R. A. Cochran rendered two beautiful hymns. The interment was made in the Maysville cemetery. A short service at the grave was conducted by Dr. Barbour.

The following were the visitors from a distance to attend the funeral of Dr. Waller:

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Waller, Mrs. Judith Johnson, Miss Della Waller, Miss Lillian Waller of Chicago; Rev. James Waller of Kenova, W. Va.; Mrs. Garnis Hunter of Harrodsburg, Ky.; Miss Phoebe Waller of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Blintnerman of the county; Mr. and Mrs. John Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellison of Manchester, Dr. A. N. Ellis of Aberdeen and Mr. Thomas Steele Andrews of Flemingsburg.

NOTICE OF KINGS DAUGHTERS MEETING

The Kings Daughters of the Episcopal Church will meet on Monday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Power, near Aberdeen. The members of the organization are asked to be at the ferry wharf at 2 o'clock on that afternoon, as a vehicle will be waiting on the Ohio side of the river to take those who do not care to walk to the residence.

COUNCIL MEETING

City Council met in a special meeting last evening in the Council Chamber to discuss the telephone franchise question. A twenty year franchise is asked for by the telephone company with the privilege of changing the rates three times, one when 500 subscribers are reached, one when 800 are reached and one when 1200. No action was taken on the matter by the council.

MRS. TERRANCE MACKAY

Mrs. Terrance Mackay died at the home of her parents on Forest avenue this morning at 5 o'clock after an illness of several months. Mrs. Mackay was 28 years of age having been born in this county in 1888. She is survived by her husband, father and three brothers, George, Fred and Anthony Diner of this city. The funeral will be held Monday morning.

ENJOY HALF HOLIDAY

Many of the students of the High School Department of the city schools enjoyed a half holiday yesterday afternoon as a result of good behavior during the preceding month. Only a few were compelled to remain. This idea has proven very popular with the students and they keep very good order throughout the month in order to obtain the half holiday.

NEW BOILER BEING PLACED IN HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

A new boiler is being placed in the High School Building by Mr. Larry Langels, the plumber. The old boiler has become damaged and as repair work would cost as much as a new boiler it was decided to purchase a new one. It has about been installed.

MANY TAKE TRIP

A large crowd of tourists made the "Trip Around the World" last evening and the ladies of the First M. M. Church, South, realized quite a sum from the entertainment. This will be put in a fund to purchase an organ for the church.

Mr. Andy Swice is in quite a serious condition from a paralytic stroke, at the home of his niece, Mrs. Amos McLaughlin, of West Second street. Don'ts are entertained for his recovery. This is the second stroke Mr. Swice has had within a very short time.

FRED HAYES

Better Known as the "Greased Pig" Given a Term of Three Years in the Penitentiary Yesterday For Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses—Other Trials for Day.

In the Mason Circuit Court yesterday, Fred Hayes, better known as the "Greased Pig," was tried on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and sentenced to a term of three years in the penitentiary.

Some time ago Hayes went to the home of Mrs. Frances in Eastland and, representing himself as a collector for the Indian Motorcycle and Bicycle Co., obtained $250 from Mrs. Frances on a bicycle her son had purchased from these people on the installment plan. Mrs. Frances became suspicious and asked her son to see if the money had been credited by the firm. He found out that Hayes was not a collector of the firm and was an impostor. When tried Hayes said that the boy had owed him some money and that this was the only way of obtaining it. When Hayes was approached by Officer Tolle to make the arrest, he ran but the policeman hit him with his club and was thus enabled to bring him to the court.

This young man has been a source of trouble to the local officers for some time and on several occasions they have had a hard time in catching him. His attorney produced a motion in court for suspended judgment which was ordered filed.

Harry Bomaker, the Cynthia merchant who was sentenced to the penitentiary for an indefinite term of from two to three years, yesterday through his attorney Hon. A. D. Cole, produced a motion for a new trial which was ordered filed.

Dr. William Pierson, the man, who representing himself as a veterinary surgeon, who fleeced the Dovers and later our Mayor and who attempted to take in the people of Vanceburg also, was sentenced to the penitentiary for a four year term by the court yesterday.

REGISTER!

Maysville Republicans who want to vote for President in November must register.

THE WORKINGMAN'S FUTURE

For two reasons the American workingman is receiving the highest wages in history. One of the reasons is the European war, which has brought a condition of prosperity to this country. The other reason is the standard determined and maintained under a tariff protective law.

The workingman deserves every cent he makes by honest toil. He has a part of the burden of life to bear.

The future of the workingman and his family was never so bright and promising as at present. The people appreciate the working service of a good worker.

For the first time the children of the workingman have equal opportunity with the children of parents of affluence. The public and parochial school service has been extended until the pupil is endowed with qualifications permitting him to begin his place in life with a feeling of confidence.

The governmental functions which handle public affairs are mindful of the daily circumstances of the workman. The State is concerned that he shall find employment. He is insured against accident. He is encouraged to practice the principles of thrift.

Sanitary conditions for him and his family are compelled. The world knows that the calling of the toiler is as respectable, and that he is entitled to as much credit for his achievements, as though he were a learned member of a profession.

The future of the American workingman is clear and assured, with one exception, and that is, he and his employer may be brought into competition with the cheap labor of other nations. The American employer and employee are dependent upon their national administration for protection against the result of cheap labor in other countries.

The Republican campaign text book for 1916, a most interesting document with many pages filled with manly arguments against free trade, shows what will come to the American merchant manufacturer, farmer and the millions of our working people unless their products are protected by a proper tariff law. For instance, that volume contains the scale of wages paid in the Orient in various occupations per day, as follows:

Carpenters, 26 cents; painters, 32 cents; jewelers, 34 cents; blacksmiths, 29 cents; plasterers, 26 cents; bricklayers, 35 cents; tailors, 25 cents; male weavers, 21 cents; female weavers, 20 cents. In cut ton mills, males, 20 cents; females, from 8 to 15 cents; children, 8 cents; coal miners, 30 cents; women in coal mines, 18 cents; boys under 14 years, 7½ cents a day.

In plants operated by the Government of Japan, the scale of wages is as follows: In the Ordnance Department, 35½ cents a day. Torpedo Department, 36 cents a day; steel work, 38 cents a day; ship building—males, 36½ cents a day; females, 14½ cents a day; powder mills—males, 31 cents a day; females, 14 cents a day; steel foundry—males, 34½ cents a day; females, 15½ cents a day.

In China, males are paid $2.59 a month; blacksmiths, from $1.50 to $2.95 a month; brakemen, $2.40 a month; ordinary day laborers from 6 to 9 cents a day. Ten hours is considered a day's work.

Think of the sturdy, ambitious, competent workman and his family being compelled to enter into competition with the cheap coolie labor of China and the poorly paid laborer of Japan!

The welfare of the entire country will continue at stake so long as the Underwood free trade law is in force, because in transportation by rail, river, canal and ocean, the same low standard of wages and long hours of service in the Orient obtains. That means low freight rates from the Orient to America.

The Republican party proposes to remove that source of danger by eliminating the Underwood free trade law from the statutes, and writing a law which will afford protection to the American producer and the American workingman without imposing hardships upon the American consumer.

President Wilson attempts to meet the situation by declaring that American ingenuity and American enterprise can overcome any obstacle and go forth to other nations to establish markets, because of the superiority of the American spirit and vision. But that brings the American workingman in a fight for existence against the millions and millions of people of China and Japan, whose lives are at best but a hopeless state of slavery, a struggle for the barest necessities.—Commercial Tribune.

WHEN PRIDE IS A VIRTUE

President Wilson may be too proud to fight—when the other fellow is as big as he is. When the other fellow is smaller, however, the President is full of fight. How about Hayti and Santo Domingo?

"HE WAS A GREAT GOVERNOR"

A majority of one hundred thousand is predicted for Hughes in New York state in November. That is what the home folks think of him.

SINGLE TRACKS AND RAILROAD TRACKS

We respectfully submit that the "single-track mind" has no right of way over double-track and four-track railroads.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

Another Ford Joke—Vance McCormick, Democratic Chairman, says Wilson will carry Michigan, that he knows it because Mr. Doremus tells him so and that Mr. Doremus knows it because Henry Ford tells him so. All of which recalls one they are putting over on the stage here. The question is, "What is the latest Ford joke?" The answer is, "Henry."

Cummins Mised—If Senator Cummins is correctly quoted regarding the Child Labor bill and Gov. Hughes comments thereon, the Senator from Iowa has been seriously misled. Gov. Hughes has pointed out that it was only with the aid of Republican Senators that this bill was passed and that he had himself been an active opponent of child-labor long before the Wilson Administration was ever heard of. Regarding the broad principle of prohibiting child labor, Mr. Hughes has further pointed out that Mr. Wilson and his Democratic friends have nothing to boast of, for the further reason that it is in state entirely controlled by Democrats that the evil is greatest, and that it is generally an evil which the federal statute cannot reach and which must be dealt with by state legislation.

Hitchcock Optimistic—Frank H. Hitchcock, member of the Republican Advisory Committee, has brought back from the West a rosy view of Republican prospect. He has reported to Chairman Willcox his confidence that Mr. Hughes will carry Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Ohio by large majorities. Mr. Hitchcock says that the great fighting ground consists of New York, New Jersey, Missouri and Nebraska. The first two he is confident will cast their electoral votes for Mr. Hughes. The two second he regards as possibly doubtful, but he is very hopeful of both. Mr. Hitchcock tells Chairman Willcox that the Republicans will gain two Senators in Indiana and that it is highly important to concentrate the Republican efforts on Nebraska, Montana, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, each of which has a Senator to elect. Speaking of the campaign in general, Mr. Hitchcock reports that it is going with a great swing, that Mr. Hughes is putting the punch into his speeches and that he is obviously carrying everything before him.

"Not Arbitrable"—I do not regard the question of the principle of the eight-hour day as arbitrable," declared Mr. Wilson in his last speech at Shrewsbury, in which he made pretense of defending his course regarding the railway wage-increase bill. The Erdman Act, formally enacted by Congress, treats the eight-hour day as arbitrable. In fact, it especially enjoins on the Board of Mediation and Conciliation which it creates the duty of first, offering its own services as a mediator and, second, failing to effect a settlement in the role of mediator, to do all in its power to bring about arbitration of any controversy which may arise between common carriers and their employees. Every President prior to Mr. Wilson has regarded a formal enactment of Congress as establishing the principle embodied therein, subject only to the verdict of the Supreme Court that such statute violated the Constitution. But with Mr. Wilson has come the new dispensation, the rule that the personal opinion of the President is supreme and that before it no law enacted by Congress is of value.

Wilson, Free Trader—President Wilson's free trade declaration in his speech to the National Grain Dealers' convention at Baltimore, has occasioned serious alarm among his political managers. Mr. Wilson said, "I want to see America pitted against the world, not in selfishness but in brains." Expressed in plain English, instead of in that parabolic phraseology in which Mr. Wilson delights, this means that the American policy of protection must be abandoned as selfish and that American brains and American labor must be "pitted against the world." Woodrow Wilson and his party are, of course, essentially free traders, but strict injunctions have gone forth from the Democratic headquarters to the Democratic speakers to "soft pedal on the free trade stuff," as it is not popular with the American voters. In 1912, 1,300,000 more votes were cast for Roosevelt and Taft, both of whom ran on frankly protective tariff platforms than for Woodrow Wilson, hence the instruction of the Democratic managers, instructions which the Democratic Presidential candidate has been the first to violate.

In Latin America—Nothing has recently occasioned greater amusement in New York than President Wilson's declaration, apropos of the Latin American republics, that "For the first time in my recollection they are beginning to trust and believe in us and

YES, I WAS QUITE UNAWARE THAT FATHER WAS SO NOTED UNTIL AFTER HIS DEISE THEN I FOUND A PICTURE OF HIM IN ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL GALLERIES IN THIS COUNTRY!

BUT THIS IS HOW HE DID IT

want us, and one of my chief concerns has been to see that nothing was done that did not show friendship and good faith on our part." In the light of his own invasion of Vera Cruz, his unreasoning decree that "Huerta must go," his employment of force in San Domingo and Hayti, even compelling the latter country by force of arms to change its constitution to suit his views, and his present menacing attitude towards Nicaragua, Mr. Wilson's declaration strikes those New Yorkers who are in close touch with Latin America and the views of the people there as ludicrous in the extreme. The view entertained here—it is more than a view, it is a conviction—is that no President has done so much, or done it so effectively as Mr. Wilson to alienate Latin-American friendship and to destroy confidence in the good faith of the United States among the people of South and Central America.

Hair-Splitting Lawyers—Dietator Wilson was pretty free with his censure of lawyers and business men alike in his address to the National Grain Dealers. "I was a lawyer once myself before I reformed," declared Mr. Wilson, "and I can divide a hair twist North and Northeast side, but I do not think it worth while and I do not think the statutes are the places for ingenuity." Then, turning his attention to business men, Mr. Wilson said that the bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce had been making extremely able reports on means of extending foreign trade but "I have found to my amazement that some of the best of those reports seem never to have been read." That Mr. Wilson is still pretty familiar with and never hesitates to employ the less reputable tricks of the legal profession is clearly shown by his designation of the railway wage increase bill as an "Eight-hour bill." It is an axiom of lawyers that the lawyer with a weak case should talk about something else and Mr. Wilson scrupulously follows that injunction, for having compelled Congress to pass a wage increase statute, he seeks to defend it by an academic discussion and defense of "the principle of the eight hour day," a matter in no way involved in that statute. If Mr. Wilson had ever tried to read some of the reports of the bureau of Domestic and Foreign Commerce he might be less censorious of those business men who omit to read them.

MEAGHER OUSTED BY UPPER COURT

Frankfort, September 28—The Appellate Court held that the nomination of J. J. Meagher, as the Democratic candidate for Senator in the Twentieth district is ineffective because Governor Stanley had not called an election. The injunction granted by the Franklin Circuit Court against the District Committee meeting to nominate a candidate was dissolved. The court holds that the Governor can not call an election to fill the vacancy in this district until he has first called a special session of the Legislature.

Three questions were determined in this case. The court held that equity has jurisdiction not only to preserve the rights which an officer has in his office, but also to protect the rights which a candidate has in the nomination for an office.

The court further held that the acceptance of the office of State Banking Commissioner by Senator George G. Spear created a vacancy in the Senatorship, as the two offices are incompatible. It then held that the nomination of Meagher to fill his vacancy was ineffective because Governor Stanley had not called a special session of the Legislature nor an election to fill the vacancy.

HUNDRED VILLA TROOPS KILLED—FOLLOWERS OF BANDIT IN ENGAGEMENT WITH FEDERALS AT CUSHULMILC

Chihuahua City, Mex., September 28—More than 100 Villa followers were killed, the bandit leader, Baudelio Uribe, was taken prisoner and heavy casualties suffered by Carranza forces in a terrific fight at Cushulmilc, an important mining center about fifty miles southwest of Chihuahua City, according to a message received this afternoon by General Trevino, from General Matias Ramos, who was himself slightly wounded.

Details of the fight were few and were appended to the request of General Ramos for surgeons and medical supplies. A hospital corps detachment was immediately rushed to the scene by train.

It is stated that the garrison at Cushulmilc co-operated with the forces of Ramos but whether they were attacked or had been the aggressors does not appear.

Troops continue to pour into Chihuahua City from the south to participate in the Villa hunt.

Villa 'Crushed,' Report
El Paso, Texas, September 28—Villa is wearing a long black beard, limps badly from the bullet wound in his right leg, and walks with difficulty even when using his crutch, a foreign business man who arrived at the border today, declares. He claimed to have seen Villa during the attack on Chihuahua City.

Skirmish Report Doubted
Presidio, Texas, September 28—A report that nine American soldiers crossed to the Mexican side at Inilio, twenty miles up the Rio Grande from here and became involved in a fight in which three Americans and four Mexicans were killed, reached here today from private sources. The military authorities, however, say they have no confirmation of the report. It was said that the Mexicans were having a dance at Inilio.

Villa with 2,000 followers is within thirty miles of Ojinaga, according to a report here circulated by Carranza officers at Ojinaga.

TRY TO BE HAPPY

Few people stop to think that their individual happiness is not dependent on outside circumstances. A habit of happiness can be cultivated, like any other habit and just as successfully. Happiness is as much a duty as cleanliness and morality. The cheerful, hopeful temper which refuses to let itself be harrowed up, it is everyone's duty to cultivate. There is a beautiful legend that at creation's dawn an angel came down to earth, seeking something to take back with it to heaven. It returned with a bouquet of flowers, a baby's smile and a mother's love. When it reached the pearly gates of Paradise again the flowers had withered, the baby's smile had vanished but the mother's love was found to be as pure and eternal as the waters that flowed by the heavenly throne, and all the angels exclaimed: "There is nothing on earth pure enough for heaven but a mother's love."

Our experience is that prices are high wherever the climate is good.

WASHINGTON OPERA HOUSE

SPEECH

Of Mr. W. H. McNeill Delivered at the Old Soldiers' Reunion in This City Wednesday.

Ladies and gentlemen: In coming to this reunion of the old soldiers today, I had not the remotest idea that I would be called on for any remarks, but at the earnest solicitation of your secretary and others, I have consented to make you a short address. As I look out over this audience, and see the old veterans whose locks the front of many winters have silvered white, and realize that it was their love of country, and their patriotism that saved our union from dissolution, I feel that the greatest honor of my life has been conferred on me today in being requested to address these old soldiers. We are all conversant with the issues that led up to Civil War, for years slavery had been the bone of contention, the Southern States believing that it was right for one man to hold another man as a slave, as chattel property, to buy and sell him, to take the fruits of his labor without remuneration to own and control him as they did other property. For years the slavery question was the paramount issue, it was discussed in our State Legislature, in the halls of Congress, and in the United States Senate.

The South clamored for the extension of slave territory and this brought on the Free Soil War of Kansas. Slavery was a blighting curse to the South, it was destroying the mental and moral manhood of the Southland, the free school system, was not favored by slave holders, it was dangerous to his interest as a slave holder, free schools would bring education too close to the slave, and when you educate a man you can't enslave him.

The agitation of the slavery question went on until there arose a man from the humblest walks of life, a man born in poverty, whose childhood home was the humble log cabin, it was this man who in 1858 met in debate Stephen A. Douglass known as the little Giant. Today in the hotel at Freeport, Ill., can be seen the photograph of Stephen A. Douglass and Abraham Lincoln, and here it was that they met in debate upon an issue that would soon decide the fate of this union. Many of Mr. Lincoln's friends had serious doubts that he would be able to meet Mr. Douglass in debate, but when they expressed their fears to Mr. Lincoln he said, "Stephen A. Douglass will defeat me for United States Senator, but I will ask Mr. Douglass questions today that he will not answer, and that will prevent him from receiving the nomination for President at the hands of party two years hence."

We all know what happened, Mr. Lincoln was elected president and the Civil War followed. My earliest recollection of the Civil War was going with my father to the little town of Springfield to hear what at that time was called a union speech. This speaking was arranged by such patriotic men as A. L. Hedman, Benjamin F. Hook and Jackson Tully. Springfield was a patriotic town, and a few years ago the late Colonel C. C. Degmann wrote a beautiful and pathetic page of history of Springfield's first flag, and their devotion to the union. On another occasion I went to the old Methodist Church near my father's farm to hear the Rev. William H. Black, a minister of the M. E. Church, make a speech, and from that old pulpit where nothing had ever been preached but "Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men," he appealed to the young men with all his zeal and powerful oratory to enlist in defense of the union. As a child I could not understand why men should go to war and kill each other, and I asked an old gray headed man, "Why do men go to war and kill each other?" the old man replied, "I do not know my son." That night as I kissed my mother good night on going to bed, I asked her the same question that I had asked the old gray headed man, and mother said, "I do not know." Long years after the Civil War was over, in visiting the battle fields of the South, where earth is billowed like the waves of the sea with the graves of the dead, we asked ourselves the same question we had asked the old man and my mother, and we answered ourselves as they had answered us, "I do not know."

One great blessing growing out of the war was that it abolished slavery, and the South realizes today that they are far better off without slavery than with it and if you old soldiers were to invade the South today to re-establish slavery you would have to fight harder to do it than you did to preserve the union. Since the Civil War the South has taken on new life, Nashville, Tenn., at the close of the war was a little city of four or five thousand population, and where Hood and Thomas contended so vigorously for the mastery of arms is now a flourishing city with the smoke of industry hovering in the air.

population at the close of the war is now an industrial city of eighty or ninety thousand population Knoxville was the home of Parson Brownlow, Editor of the Knoxville Whig, who for his loyalty to the Union was put in prison. Some years ago while in Knoxville I had the pleasure of visiting his wife who was then eighty-seven years old, at the same time I met his daughter who after her father had been taken to prison defended the Stars and Stripes with a double barreled shotgun, that her father had hoisted over his printing office. When a Confederate Officer had been sent to haul down the flag this loyal daughter of a loyal father armed with her gun told the officer she would kill the first man who laid hands on the flag, and the flag stayed there.

At the little town of Franklin, Tenn., was fought one of the hardest battles of the Civil War considering its duration. It was at this battle that you old soldiers of the 16th Kentucky played such a conspicuous part and often as I have passed through Franklin, I have tried to imagine where you were lined up for this battle. Many of you I remembered as a boy, but wherever you stood upon that field it was your valor, and the valor of the 12th Kentucky that saved the day at Franklin.

Another great battle of the Civil War was that of Pittsburg Landing, some times called the battle of Shiloh. In this battle the 70th Ohio took part, the few old soldiers that I knew who belonged to the 70th Ohio, were Dr. Anderson Ellis, George Ellis, Alex O. Rains and Colonel C. C. Degmann. This battle was begun on Sunday morning and raged for two days, with unabated fury, victory finally being won by the Federal forces. It was in this battle the brilliant, brave and noble hearted Confederate General, Albert Sidney Johnson, was killed. As General Johnson was born from the field he said to the surgeons, "If there is a single soldier in the ranks that needs attention more than I need it, see to him, I can wait." Albert Sidney Johnson must surely have possessed a beautiful soul.

For years after the Civil War miscreant politicians to further their own selfish interest, kept alive the prejudice that grew out of the war, but one day, I don't know just when it was, but all Heaven and earth got tired of this and God came along and with the finger of His love He touched the heart of the boy who wore the blue and the heart of the boy who wore the gray and the scales fell from their eyes and they saw they were brothers. At the conclusion of the Civil War when the South was in ashes and rags, at a meeting of the Confederate soldiers some one said, "What can we do to show our love and respect for our fallen comrades?" In their poverty they had no money to erect costly monuments, the question was unanswered until a beautiful and accomplished lady arose and said, "We can cover their graves with flowers," and from this lady's suggestion it is said has grown the beautiful custom of decoration on the 30th of May the graves of our soldiers. Decoration Day has had much to do with eradicating the prejudice engendered by the Civil War.

Some years ago I was in the city of Chattanooga on Decoration Day, and from the lofty heights of Lookout Mountain turned my eyes towards Sherman Heights where 30,000 Union soldiers lie sleeping. I looked Southward toward the battle field of Chickamauga, and then turned my eyes toward the red field of Missionary Ridge, and then in the Southland where the beautiful wild flowers bloom, and the song birds warble their sweet music, hundreds of Southern ladies could be seen covering the graves of the soldiers with flowers. The beautiful Southern maid that placed a flower on the grave of the boy who wore the gray, with the same hand placed a flower on the grave of the boy who wore the blue, and watered them both with her tears, and I knew then that love and not prejudice was finding a permanent abiding place in the hearts of all our nation. I also knew that some hand on each Decoration Day would place a flower on the soldier's grave of my only brother, who sleeps in the National Cemetery at Cleveland, Tenn. To me war has always been a horrible thing to contemplate, and I believe that Christian civilization will soon reach that high plane that will forever make war impossible. However, I believe the love of country, and the fires of patriotism burn as bright in the hearts of the people today as it did in the hearts of our forefathers who left their blood-stained prints on the snowy hillsides of Valley Forge. I believe today that if our country called them, a million sons and grandsons of these old veterans would spring to arms as you did in '61, and unfold this emblem of our liberty to the breeze and say in the language of the poet:

"For the free forever were by all
Made to your glory"

Thy stars have lit the welkin dome and all thy hues were born in heaven."

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health.

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Maysville Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results. Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, says: "I think kidney trouble came from a strain in my case. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I hadn't caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. It finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and at times my hands were the same way. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

CLOTHES ECONOMY

Look at it this way: A suit purchased here at $25 will not sag or bag because the sag and bag has been shrunk out of the fabrics, inside and out. It will not lose its style for that has been tailored into it by experts it will satisfy because of its stability. $25 is only a few dollars more than cheap clothes cost. $25 suit will outwear a cheap suit two to one; it will outlast a cheap suit four or five to one. True economy always looks beyond the purchase price.

KIPPENHEIMER CLOTHES

are spoken of as a greater value. Men who buy them and wear them, come back and duplicate their purchase each season in the season's latest styles.

N. B. DODRIDGE

(Portsmouth Times.)

N. B. Dodridge, born May 29, 1850, died September 21, after an extended illness. His wide circle of friends regretted to hear of his death as few knew of his serious condition. Mr. Dodridge was married October 7, 1877, to Elizabeth Parker of Concord, Ky. To this union seven children were born, as follows: Mrs. Edna Conley, Rome, O., Florence Bush, Wheelersburg, Wilbur, Edgar, Charlie, Alma, Percy, Fullerton. He also leaves nine grandchildren and one brother, Robert Dodridge, Manchester, Ohio. Mr. Dodridge had been suffering with heart trouble for the past four weeks, but took suddenly worse one week ago. His wife and children surrounded his bed at the final summons. The deceased had been engaged in farming most of his life. The past three years he worked for the Selby Shoe Co. He was a member of the Presbyterian church at Manchester, Ohio, and by his kind disposition made many friends. The pall-bearers were: Wilburn, Edgar and Charlie Dodridge, Eugene Callahan, William Burnett, Curle Bush. Burial was made at Sloan, Ky.

"THE LITTLE GIRL NEXT DOOR"

Arrangements have been made by Managers Russell and Watkins of the Opera House booking the picture, "The Little Girl Next Door." This picture will be shown on October 11 in this city.

This photoplay is heralded as an intensely interesting and entertaining film drama, and at the same time vividly portraying a strong moral lesson. Mothers and fathers, it is believed, will want their grownup children to see it, as the picture presents the pitfalls for the ignorant, without containing anything to offend the most sensitive.

NEW PASTOR WILL PREACH

The Rev. J. F. Ruggles is now in his field of labor, located at 1006 East Second street. Any one desiring his services can call the above number. The new pastor will preach at the Forest Avenue M. E. Church Sunday morning after Sunday School and Sunday evening at the usual hour. He also will fill the pulpit at Stewart's Chapel in the afternoon. There will be an official board meeting of the entire East Maysville church at the Forest Avenue M. E. Church Wednesday evening at 4:30 o'clock. All the officers are expected to attend.

STREET OPENED UP

The south side of East Second street has been opened up as far as Union street. The brick have all been laid and the tar poured and the street is completed on that side. Bricking on the north side of the street above Commerce street is going on this morning. The intersection of Commerce and Second having been finished yesterday afternoon. At the rate the contractors are going now they will finish by the middle of next month. Three days work was lost during the past week on account of accidents and bad weather.

FENCE BLOWN DOWN

A section of the fence of the baseball park has been blown down and is laying across the pavement making it necessary for pedestrians to walk out in the street in order to get past. As the street is torn up the rains of the past few days have made it almost impassable. On the opposite side of the street there are no sidewalks and so the inhabitants of that section of the city are without both streets and sidewalks.

HENSON-DILLON

Mr. Emory Dillon, 22, and Miss Anna Bell Henson, 21, both of Germantown, were granted a license to wed by County Clerk J. J. Owens yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curran will return to this city next week after spending the summer in their summer home in Dover.

REV. N. F. JONES BEGINS NEW PASTORATE HERE

Rev. N. F. Jones, who was recently called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of this city, has arrived in Maysville and will assume charge of the local church tomorrow. Rev. Jones is a son of Alabama. His father the Rev. A. M. Jones was Chaplain of the 55th Georgia regiment during the Civil War. His mother was Miss Lucy Ann Forsythe whose family was prominent in Mobile, Ala. His education was continued through a large portion of his youth and completed after he entered the ministry. After completing the grades and High School work in Alabama he was sent to Greenville College Institute and then took his post graduate work at Southern University, and graduated from the Southern Baptist Seminary several years later. Before entering the ministry Rev. Jones studied law and was one of the proprietors and publishers of the "Masonic Guide" which was the official organ of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Alabama. It was while he was in Texas in the interest of Masonic work that he met and married Miss Haislip, the talented daughter of the Rev. W. C. Haislip, a prominent preacher and army officer. Besides doing extensive evangelistic and lecture work, Dr. Jones has been much honored in the ministry. He founded and edited "The Muhlenburg Baptist" which resulted in the organization of Muhlenburg Baptist Association. The General Association of Kentucky Baptists elected him a member of the State Board of Missions and Campbell Association has elected him as Moderator for five years where he has proven his splendid parliamentary knowledge and executive ability. He was also President of the Cincinnati Baptist Ministers Conference. Mrs. Jones is a woman of culture and ability. Her activity in church and civic life will no doubt be greatly missed in Dayton where they have lived for the past five years. Maysville rejoices with the First Baptist Church upon having such a worthy man and his family brought into our city life and we extend to them a hearty welcome to our city. The local church has made extensive preparations for an auspicious opening of Rev. Jones' pastorate with them and no doubt he will be greeted by large crowds at both services tomorrow. The entire public is invited to hear and welcome him to our city.

WATERMAN'S IDEAL FOUNTAIN PENS

SATISFIED CUSTOMERS ARE THE BEST ASSET OF ANY BUSINESS.

Nowhere does this axiom become more apparent than in the handling of Waterman's Fountain Pens. They are essentially fountain pens of continuous and life-long satisfaction to the user—and are known as such by the writing public everywhere.

Waterman's Ideals are made in Self Filling, Safety, Regular and Pocket types. All prices. Come in and try one.

HUERTA'S WIDOW AFTER RETURN OF BAIL MONEY

San Antonio, Texas, September 29—When Mrs. Victoriano Huerta goes to El Paso in a few days to place a wreath on the grave of her late husband, who died in exile, she will take steps to obtain $20,000 which was provided by the former president of Mexico as bail when he was in custody, her friends said tonight.

The charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States brought against Huerta had been dismissed, but no steps were taken to have the bail returned. It is said to be deposited in an El Paso bank.

Mr. Thomas Anderson of Point-View Farm just above the city, returned home yesterday after being in Cincinnati for a short time, for an operation one of his eyes. Mr. Anderson is much improved.
